The Client will deposit a minimum of 10,000 £/€//$ (ten thousand pounds sterling, euros, or dollars), which will be traded on the MetaTrader platform through the regulated British broker FX Pro.

The Client is guaranteed by ARROW TRADING for their initial deposit of£/€//$.

The deposit guarantee means that the£/€//$ initially deposited are protected against any loss.

Performance:

From 10.000 £/€//$ to 19.999 £/€//$	Up to 10% net client per month
From 20,000 £/€//$ to 29,999 £/€//$	Up to 20% net client per month
30.000 £/€//$ and above	Up to 30% net client per month

Withdrawal requests can be made under the following conditions:

- ▶ Every month

A first one-month period will allow the client to assess the services provided by ARROW TRADING.

If the client is satisfied with the results achieved and, in fact, with the services offered by the ARROW TRADING Company, they can commit to a six-month contract, renewable.

A new six-month commitment is automatically renewed between the parties at the end of the initial six months of service execution, in the absence of an engagement email.

The commencement of the service will be notified via email and will start no later than 48 hours after the client's funds are received.

ARROW TRADING Trading Company commits to diligently manage its performance.

It undertakes to provide all relevant information and to account for explaining the purpose of the service in terms of performance outcomes.

ARROW TRADING Trading Company does not charge any management fees. Management fees are directly deducted upon the execution of its service.

ARROW TRADING Trading Company is released from all responsibilities in the event of force majeure.

LLC.

Procedure Details:

- Transfer funds to the bank account of ARROW TRADING Trading Company. The transfer of funds signifies the acceptance of effective management of the client's deposit and serves as a mandate for managing the client's funds.
- The receipt of funds, as notified via email, will mark the exact day as the starting point for fund management optimization.

The absence of notification regarding the commencement of execution via email obligates ARROW TRADING Company the day following receipt, serving as confirmation of the starting point for the provision of services.

Example:

Funds sent on December 12th. Received on December 13th. Service commencement on December 14th. The first week runs from December 14th to December 21st.

- The client has the option to withdraw their profits every month by sending an email to ARROW TRADING Company 15 days prior to the desired withdrawal date.
- The cumulative effect is a service provided by ARROW TRADING Trading Company (unless otherwise instructed by the client who wishes to withdraw the profits earned). The performance of the cumulative effect cannot be determined in advance. A report is provided to the client every month.
- Cumulative effect is available up to an amount of £/€//$ 10.000.000 after which the client will have the option to explore alternative arrangements or will be required to withdraw their profits on a monthly basis.
- It is advised not to disturb ARROW TRADING Trading Company during its working month, as the service is manual. Emails will be drafted and processed within the specified timelines.
- The client may terminate the service with a fifteen-day notice period.
- Withdrawing the deposit and the service, meaning the total funds held by ARROW TRADING Trading Company, results in the permanent termination of the contract and future acceptance refusal.
- Commitment for a minimum of 1 month, followed by a renewable 6 months term unless otherwise instructed by the client fifteen days prior to the contract anniversary date.
- The commitment for six months is automatically renewed if neither party communicates otherwise after the initial six months of service execution and the conclusion of subsequent 6 months periods.

- The six-month commitment entails that the client agrees not to withdraw their deposit for the duration of the six months. This commitment is essential for the sustainability and proper operation of ARROW TRADING Trading Company.
- At the end of the first month, the client has the option to either permanently terminate the contract or commit to a six-month period. In the event of early termination by a client committed for six months, barring a case of force majeure (death or complete loss of professional activity), the client hereby agrees to waive any ongoing execution as well as the profits of the current month, with no possibility of dispute before a court.
- In the event of a loss of the client's deposit, ARROW TRADING Trading Company undertakes to reimburse the initial funds within 10 banking days. Failure to do so may lead, after the 10-day period, to a potential legal action to seize ARROW TRADING Trading Company's account through legal denunciation.
- No transfer of funds to the account of ARROW TRADING Trading Company is possible without prior signature of this contract.

The contract must include:

- ▶ The Kbis of UNICOM Trading Company [ARROW TRADING]
- ▶ The CIS of the client.

The contract is authenticated through the exchange of signatures sent via email between the client and ARROW TRADING Trading Company.

The banking details of the client's receiving account must be included in the contract.

Each page of the contract must be initialed.
